

A TALE OF STORE GAMERS - MONTH 1

With month 1 nearing it's end, it's time for a quick update on the tale of store gamers. Each participant should now have a feel for their army, the theme they are going with and what the potential final force will include.

All being well, each participant will have their month 1 hero/HQ on display in store following the 17th of February along with a background story for their army. Thanks to the store for providing a shelf within the cabinet in the gaming room for this display, that will be updated as the months go by.
